Date:2/2/2022

I am pleased to inform that the PDCH innovation and incubation council has been constituted with the following faculty members to enhance in research and development of the institution and to establish collaboration with national / international research forums. Within the field of research and development, PDCH innovation and incubation centre provides essential venues for developing ground-breaking concepts, encouraging collaboration, and converting cutting-edge research into practical solutions. They offer high-tech labs, specialized instruments, and collaborative work spaces. From basic science to clinical research and development, these facilities are outfitted to accommodate a broad spectrum of research and development. They help student researchers to secure funds from government/private grants, and industry partnerships to implement novel ideas in the form of research and to help them grow and scale their ventures. Additionally, PDCH innovation and incubation centre allocating specific funding mechanisms tailored to support student and faculty - led innovative research projects. These funds can be used for a range of research-related costs, such as project costs, lab equipment, consumables, data analysis, and publication charges. This centre enables students to pursue large-scale, meaningful research initiatives that would otherwise be impeded by financial constraints by offering financial support.
